Areas of competences

My background is strong in mathematics, and I have a solid knowledge e.g. in partial differential equations and probability theory. Since my graduation from the University of Helsinki, I have aimed towards engineering and pursued research on low earth orbit satellite communications at Aalto University. My interests are strong in modeling wireless communication networks and I have an understanding of concepts like frequency reuse, MIMO, multiplexing, fading etc. In my research, I have applied stochastic geometry to wireless communication, and particularly to satellite communications, in an unprecedented and creative manner. I have worked with various programming languages like Java, C, Matlab etc. I am eager to participate in constructive challenges and to learn more.
