Areas of competences

My background is in applied mathematics, and I have a wide box of skills in there, and I have a solid knowledge e.g. in partial differential equations and probability theory. Since my graduation from the University of Helsinki, I have aimed towards engineering and pursued research on low earth orbit satellite communications at Aalto University. My interests are in modeling wireless communication networks, and I am familiar with frequency reuse, MIMO, multiplexing, fading etc. I have applied stochastic geometry to wireless satellite communication systems in creative ways. I have worked with various programming languages like Matlab, Wolfram, C, Java etc. I am eager to participate in constructive challenges and to learn more.
